Shared Resources Partners (SRP)

We are proud to offer the NC Providers Council Shared Resources Initiative as a benefit for our members.

During these tough economic times, we all feel the financial pressure and we hope that through your NC Providers Council membership, discounts on products and services can potentially relieve some of that unwarranted pressure.

We are all familiar with the “Bulk-Buying Philosophy” that offers lower prices on bigger purchases. This philosophy is the backbone of this initiative.

This benefit leverages our members’ collective buying power to stimulate dramatic discounts on several products as well as services. If you are a member of the NC Providers Council, you can take advantage of this buying power through our Shared Resources Initiative. Learn more about this member benefit by attending the Wednesday, October 5, 4:00pm – 5:30pm session, Cost Reduction Strategies-Your Membership Dollars at Work. Visit our Shared Resource Partners: The Simmons Group, McKesson Medical-Surgical and Aym Technologies, LLC at their conference exhibit.

Leverage the Power of a McKesson Partnership. At McKesson, our goal is to provide you with more than quality products at excellent prices. We take a holistic approach to servicing your business that includes partnering with you on all levels. By offering a total solution that integrates products, services, staff training and education, and management tools, we can help you improve your business while reducing costs, streamlining workflow and improving overall resident care.

Aym Technologies is the recognized leader in human service organizational management solutions. Our fully integrated technology solution coupled with our unique service model enables leading health and human service agencies to improve the performance of their organization. Our solutions free your personnel resources from administrative inefficiencies to do the work that is most important for your agency - the care of your customers

At The Simmons Group, we pride ourselves on having partnerships with only the best of class brokers/consultants and carriers. We focus on offering boutique services and products while having the capabilities of fortune 500 companies. Our holistic approach enables us to put our clients in the best financial situation. Our promise is to always keep your best intentions in the fore front of our business.
